Winter 2024

Robert Rogers Rangers Roustabout Recap

Wait a minute! This is the Winter 2024 newsletter? Yep! it is still fall, but it is a cold fall! Fortunately, we didn't have to wear snow shoes like the rangers had to, but it was cold!

A good crowd of enthusiastic runners gathered for this year's event! Also, there was no snow on the ground!

How did the runners react at this event! They just wanted to have fun, and fun can be splashing in puddles.

Of course, the event was held on the Ticonderoga Golf course. The course was super, well marked and provided the runner with a good view of the course. Also, the event provided runners to get their feet wet with the coming of the new running season: winter.

"The ice was here, the ice was there, the ice was all around." (The Rime of the Ancient Mariner, Coleridge). Actually, it was only on one bridge!

Great camaraderie followed the run. Runners warmed-up in a room off of the patio at the golf course, discussion their adventures on the course.

One runner produced a hat; commenting that it was the original hat of Robert Rodgers. It did have an RR emblem stitched into the liner, next to the "China" tag.

What next? The runners headed to the House of Pizza for a sit-down, some soda, and some slices of pizza. Employees were cautious; they thought that they would run out of dough, but alas, there was plenty, but not enough pesto! Oh no!

Club Renewal

Runners at the race had the opportunity to renew club membership for 2025. This will be a topic for discussion at the next club meeting on January 12th.

BILL RODGERS INVITED TO MONTCALM MILE '97

While working as coach for the Kenyan runners, Claude La Chute ran into Bill Rodgers. He only ran into him only figuratively. Both Claudes legs and wheels are to slow to run into him any other way. They met at the Bauer maker, in Utica, at the beginning of the summer. After a protracted conversation, Claude invited Bill to the race. Bill said, "A mile race, in Tennessee?" and to change the topic, "Isn't that the place that has the tort?"

Claude extents a belated "thank you" to all those who helped out in this summer's rain-soaked race. With out your help, the race would have been a washout! We will have an extra bottle of La Chute River water for Bill, if he decides on a July visit to the fort.

Bill Rogers

Looking into past reverences to the Robert Rogers Rangers Ramble race I came across this reference to a “Rogers.”

Of course, there is no relation. This is the first page of an early pre-Internet PDF; actually it was printed on a cellulose material call paper.

If you are interested in exploring the career of this runner, you can find information at this link:

Bill Rogers

I found this quote: “He lives in the small town of Boxborough, Massachusetts, and still participates in running-themed events.”

I wonder if he likes pizza? Perhaps we can invite him to the next Ramble.
